

TO HONOR

KENNETH NELS HOLMBERG

LIEUTENANT COLONEL, U. S. ARMY ENGINEERS

1914 - 1973

Kenneth Holmberg was born in Nebraska and graduated from college in Fremont. He then graduated from Army Officers Training School and served in the Corps of Engineers for a full career. He was building air strips in Okinawa at the end of World War II and also in Korea during that war. He helped to construct the launching pads in the early days of the space program and retired in 1961. His second career was in the insurance business. He married Opal Holbub in 1948 and they raised four children; Dixie, Diane, Dennis and David.

By his daughter Diane M. Pressman